NetSuite Electronic File/Software Delivery

NetSuite lets you sell files or software online and make them available for download. You can associate multiple files from the File Cabinet to a downloadable item. Any type of downloadable file can be sold in this manner including documents, music or executables. Once purchased, the files become available for download in a password-protected area, where you can display license codes. You can also leverage these new capabilities to require an online form to be submitted prior to making a download available rather than a purchase, allowing for marketing campaign calls to action around white papers and collateral that guarantee lead registration.
